COREY FAMILY

Compiled by Raymond W. Goodspeed of Rutland, Vt.

Transcribed by Miss Amy L. Perkins

Chairman, Genealogical Records of Ann Story Chapter, D. A. R.

Indexed by Mrs. Harold H. Cady

Vermont State Chairman Genealogical Records, D.A.R.

1958

This incomplete work on the families of WILLIAM COREY of Portsmouth, R. I.,
JOHN COREY of Long Island, THOMAS COREY of Chalmersford, Mass. and JOHN COREY of Roxbury, Mass. was transcribed from the original notes of Raymond W. Goodspeed, 98 Bellevue Ave., Rutland, Vt.

It seems to have been the intention of Mr. Goodspeed to compile and publish a complete work which would carry out the descendants of the several families.
The project came to an end with his untimely death.

1919044

The privilege of transcription has been granted to Ann Story Chapter by his widow, an associate member, with the hope that the data which had been accumulated by Mr. Goodspeed might be made available for reference by its inclusion in the D.A.R.
books.

C O R E Y

This incomplete work on the families of WILLIAM COREY of Portsmouth, R. I., JOHN COREY of Long Island, THOMAS COREY of Chelmsford, Mass. and JOHN COREY of Roxbury, Mass. was transcribed from the original notes of Raymond W. Goodspeed, 98 Bellevue Ave., Rutland, Vt.

It seems to have been the intention of Mr. Goodspeed to compile and publish a complete work which would carry out the descendants of the several families. The project came to an end with his untimely death.

The privilege of transcription has been granted to Ann Story Chapter by his widow, an associate member, with the hope that the data which had been accumulated by Mr. Goodspeed might be made available for reference by its inclusion in the D.A.R. books.

As Mr. Goodspeed was contemplating an extensive work, he started to arrange his material with that object in mind. In order to present it in a fairly compact form, convenient for reference, the transcriber has adopted a simpler arrangement while retaining all of the data.

It seems likely that some of the basic material included came from available references. The source of later items is not evident. However, the collection should at least provide some helpful clues, in a simple form, for further research on descendants of the Corey family.

THE COREY FAMILY IN AMERICA

The legends about the early Corey family in America are many. Just how many are true and how many are fiction, it is difficult to say. We do know, however, that between 1635 and 1640, four men of this name appeared in this country. Just where each came from and in what ship, has never been fully established.

It is believed by many that the Corays are of Scotch descent and that those who were in England in the 16th Century were of the same origin. Certainly, the name is of ancient lineage and may have come from Peter de Curri, or Corrie, who was in Scotland back in 1170.

It has been said that the Corays were of Pict or Scandinavian origin, deriving their name from "Cori", the name of a Roman fort at Annandale, in the Shire of Dumfriesshire, Scotland. Others say that it was taken from the Gaelic, "corrie", meaning "hollow side of a hill". It is quite likely that it was of local origin and that the first family of the name took it from the name of their native town.

In Scotland and England, the name seems to have been first "Currie", "Cori" or "Corrie", being changed later to "Cory", "Corry" and other similar derivations. Old records seem to indicate that the first of the name in America spelled the name "Cory", some changing later to "Corey".

The valiant Corrie clan of Scotland served gallantly under the warring Scottish chieftains. An old manuscript, now at Cheltenham, England, has it this way: "The family of Corry was formerly remarkable in Scotland for their Vallour by so frequent wars whych sometimes hap(p)ened between England and Scotland, and bareth in their Coat of Arms: Argent a saltero Couped Gules".

William M. Robinson of Grand Rapids, Mich., who spent many years tracing the lineage of the family, compiled what he called the "Norfolk Descent of Cory Family". In this, he traces back to "Cory of Bramerton, Norfolk, 1250 A.D.". However, this connection is not definitely proven with the American family and it is doubtful if it could be entirely true. It is true that Sir John Cory of Bramerton Hall, Norfolk was knighted by James I in 1612 and this was confirmed to his son, Sir Thomas Cory by Charles I in 1637. However, we can find no proof that either Sir John or Sir Thomas was the father of any American Cory.

The first Coreys in America were JOHN, WILLIAM, THOMAS and GILES. Whether or not they came together, we do not know, but it is believed that all of them landed at or near Boston, and it seems quite possible that all of them lived at one time at Salem, Mass. A rare book of about 30 pages was published near Boston before 1815. The late James Enos Cory had a copy given to him by an aged lady whose maiden name was Cory, but he lost it in a fire in 1883.

it told of the tragic death of GILES COREY in 1692 and it is believed that it contained other information about the family. It is feared that all copies of this book are now out of existence.

The Customs House records at Boston (1628-1780) were removed from Boston by the Tories during the British evacuation and taken to Halifax. These were later taken to England and may be still in existence if they were not destroyed by bombs. If they could be discovered, they might show the arrival of the Coreys in America and tell from whence they came.

There is a legend that three or four Corey brothers, who were officers in Cromwell's army, were taken and sentenced to death. They escaped in a rowboat and were picked up by a ship coming to America. Whether there is any truth in this, we do not know. It is true that this was about the time that similar deportations were made and it is known that the Coreys settled near the Comes and Munroes and that William Munroe was deported.

Edwin P. Corey, late of New York City, and a descendant of WILLIAM Corey, after long years of research, gives this as his conclusion, "All the Coreys in America sprang from one source, probably not from one man, but from several brothers or relatives who arrived at or near Boston, from which place they and their descendants migrated through Massachusetts, and Connecticut, and crossed from the last state to Long Island".

Many have stated that JOHN, WILLIAM and THOMAS were brothers. Certainly, they were of about the same age, but just who was GILES? Some call him a younger brother, some call him a nephew. There are many indications that they were all closely related. The fact that John, William and Thomas all named their first son, JOHN, suggests to many that the name of their father was JOHN. The fact that they all lived first at the same place strongly suggests, if it does not prove a connection.

WILLIAM Corey went to Portsmouth, R. I., appearing there as early as 1642. He founded what is known as the "William Corey line" or the "Rhode Island Coreys".

JOHN Corey apparently did not stay in Massachusetts for any length of time, but went to Connecticut, later crossing the Sound to Long Island, being first at Southampton and later becoming one of the founders of Southold, L. I. He raised a family of seven children and founded what is known as the "John Corey line".

THOMAS Corey settled in Chelmsford, Mass. about 1644 and married Abigail Gould (or Gold), becoming the progenitor of the "Thomas Corey line", also known as the "Massachusetts Coreys".

GILES Corey was in Salem, Mass., as early as 1649. He was married three times but left no male issue. His third wife, Martha, was convicted and hanged for witchcraft in 1692 and Giles was pressed to death between stones in the same year for the same crime. He thus became known as the "Corey Martyr".

*****

Note: Mr. Goodspeed includes in his notes a sketch of the Cory arms evidently made from some reference. He includes also a sketch of a house which was built by John Corey(2) (William-1) about two miles from East Greenwich, R. I., in the year 1710. The chimney was eight ft. square. Near the house, on the same premises are buried five generations, including probably John Corey(2), certainly John Corey(3). He attributes this second item to James E. Corey, Shelby, O. and says "This picture was copied at the Boston Genealogical Rooms, Dec. 30, 1942 by Charles T. Corey, Whitman, Mass." and given to him Jan. 1, 1943.

Mr. Goodspeed also included some four or five typed pages from "Some Chronicles of the Cory Family", by Harriet C. Dickenson, 1914. Scottish notes.

He also has a considerable list of references on the Scottish history of the family.

Also for the "Norfolk Descent", particularly the work by William Robinson to which previous reference has been made, and the Harleen MSS and Visitations of Norfolk.

It seemed unnecessary to include all of this material in this transcription as most of it would be available in a good genealogical index.

A.L.P., transcriber.

THE GRATE BOOKE

This is the Bible, given to John Cory, 1st by his mother as he was about to sail from England. It has been handed down for nine generations to William Smith Corey, Beaver County, Pa. (John-1; John-2; John-3; Elnathan-4; Ebenezer-5; Elnathan-6; John-7; Elnathan-8).

It was printed in England in 1603, in the old type and quaint spelling of the period. It has 500 leaves of old English parchment. It was traced by Mr. James E. Cory of Shelby, Ohio.

WILLIAM COREY of Portsmouth, R. I.

I--William Corey-b. abt. 1618, perhaps in Devonshire, Eng.
d. Jan. 4, 1682, Portsmouth
m. Mary Earle, abt. 1655-7

William Corey came to America prior to 1640, landing at or near Boston. He is said to have lived at Salem but no record has been found to support this. He was in Portsmouth as early as 1642. He was a house carpenter and miller. On Dec. 10, 1657, he received a grant of eight acres of land at Portsmouth. Admitted freeman, May 18, 1658. On Dec. 4, 1659, he received a deed of one-third share in Dartmouth from William Earle. He was a juryman in 1671. On Apr. 4, 1676, he and three others were appointed to have care and disposing of one barrel of powder and two great guns. Au. 24, 1676, he was a member of a Court Martial at Newport which tried some Indians. He was Deputy from Portsmouth to the General Assembly for three years, 1678-79-80. He also held the offices of Lieut. and Capt. successively. His will, dated Jan. 4, 1681 and proved Feb. 24, 1682, was the first Corey will of record in America. In it, he named his wife and nine children. His second son, William was named Administrator.

Mary Earle was the daughter of Ralph and Joan (Savage) Earle. After the death of William Corey, she married Joseph Timberlake. She died Mar. 22, 1718. She was b. 1636 (L.D.S.)

d. May 13, 1712, North Kingston, R.I.
m. Elizabeth (probably Gascott)

Elizabeth is traditionally supposed to have been the daughter of a Chief of the Narragansett Indians, whose name was Minnetinka, which she changed to the English one of Elizabeth. She died after 1713.

John Corey's father left him certain lands in Portsmouth and, on May 7, 1679, he was granted land in East Greenwich by the Assembly. He was admitted a freeman in 1686 and was King's Town Deputy in 1717. His will, dated May 12, 1712, proved July 24, 1722. Children were born at Portsmouth or North Kingston.

She was b. 1692 and d. 1766. Some think that her surname may have been Anthony, as she had a son, Anthony. John's brother, William also had a son, Anthony. Some think that it may have been Coggeshall as a John Coggeshall confirmed a deed to John Corey, declaring that he had given the land (90 acres) in East Greenwich, to his son Daniel in his will.

On May 12, 1712, John Corey(II) deeded to John Corey(III) a house and land at North Kingston.

d. abt. 1746-7
m. Elizabeth Drake. Apr. 3, 1742

She was the dau. of John & Esther (Widow Joyce) Drake.
Because of this marriage, there was much excitement among the Coreys in this country about 1900. Some thought that they might be heirs to the enormous estate of Sir Francis Drake in England. Many paid lawyers to search records toward establishment of claims, but apparently nothing came of it.

He apparently lived there for a few years and then went to Plainfield, N.H., which was settled from Plainfield, Conn. A return of Capt. Russell's Company, Plainfield, N. H., May 3, 1777, with names annexed, gives the name of a Corp. Timothy Corey. As the first two sons were born in Conn., it seems likely that he went to N.H. about 1767.

III--Isaac Corey-b. ?(William-2; William-1)
d. May 25, 1748, Plainfield, Conn.
m. Sarah

41

He was probably descended as noted above (Wm.-2; Wm.-1) and, if so, he was born at Portsmouth, R.I. No Isaac was mentioned in the will of William-2 as being his son, the will being probated in 1704, but it is the opinion of William Robinson and others that William-2 did have a son, Isaac. If so, he was probably the oldest son and born about 1680. Credence is added to this theory by the fact that here seems to be the only place that he can be fitted into the Rhode Island family of Corey. While it is possible that he belonged to another line of the family, this solution seems the most feasible.

II--Thomas Corey-b. 1670 (William-1)
d. 1738, Tiverton, R.I.
m. (1) Sarah (probably Faber)
(2) Susannah Tabor, Feb. 24, 1732

He was an inhabitant at the time of the organization of Tiverton, Mar. 2, 1692. He was said to have inherited large estates there and was probably the first wealthy Corey in America. His will, dated Sept. 23, 1734 and proved Mar. 21, 1738, names his two sons, William and Philip as Executors. He left extensive lands and houses to his sons. He left his wife 100 pounds in money and 500 pounds to each of his daughters. His son Thomas was said to be educated in England. Sarah was probably the mother of all of the children.

d. aft. 1774
m. Hannah Allen, Feb. 22, 1722/3, Tiverton, R.I.

He was spoken of as "William of Newport", so it is probable that he had lived there previous to his marriage. It is also thought that they may have lived for a short time in Tiverton and then removed to Newport, R.I. where he was living as late as 1774.

It is not sure that this Caleb was the son of William-3, but it seems quite probable as this was the only Corey family at Newport at the time.

Note: Data seems confused at this point as Mr. Goodspeed attributes to Caleb-5 (Caleb-4; Wm.-3; Thos.-2; Wm.-1) exactly the same marriage and children as he did to Caleb-6, b. Apr. 16, 1776 (William-5; Caleb-4; Michael-3; Wm.-2; Wm.-1).
One of these attributions must be in error.

2021-2022

1. Introduction
The purpose of this study is to investigate the effects of the new curriculum on the learning outcomes of students in the field of Mathematics.

2. Methodology
The study was conducted using a quantitative research design. Data was collected from a sample of 100 students who were enrolled in the Mathematics course during the 2021-2022 academic year.

3. Results

The results of the study indicate that the new curriculum had a positive impact on the learning outcomes of students.

4. Conclusion
Based on the findings of the study, it can be concluded that the new curriculum is effective in improving the learning outcomes of students in the field of Mathematics.

JOHN COREY of Long Island

I--John Corey-b. about 1611, England
d. July 6, 1680 1695 & 96

m. Ann _____

John Cory came to America in 1635, probably in the ship "Planter". He was for a short time in Massachusetts, perhaps in Salem, going later to New Haven, Conn. He appeared in Huntington, L. I. about 1640 and later became one of the founders of Southold, L.I. He was one of twelve men, with Rev. John Yorges as their leader, who crossed from Connecticut to Long Island and became the founders of Southold. Rev. Younges had come from Southwold, Eng. Before John Corey left England, it is said that he was given a Bible by his mother, which became the "Great Booke" of the Corey family and was handed down for generations. This Bible was in the possession of William Smith Corey of Beaver Co., Penn. at the time of his death. It is mentioned in the wills of the first three Johns, and also in the will of the latter's son, Elnathan, who willed it to his son, Ebenezer.

THOMAS COREY of Chelmsford,
Mass.

I--Thomas Corey-b. perhaps between 1615 and 1625
d.

m. Abigail Gould (or Gooles), Sept. 19, 1665

She was the daughter of Francis and Rose Gould of Braintree, Mass. and b. Dec. 18, 1649.

Thomas Corey was in Charlestown, Mass. as early as 1658.
Some records place him near Boston as early as 1644.
He was born in England, but just how and when he came to America is not known. He went to Chelmsford, Mass.
in 1662, and settled in the southern part of that town, now called Carlisle.

m. Hannah Page (She was b. Feb. 10, 1667/8.)

They lived first at Chelmsford and later at Weston, Mass. Inventory of his estate is on file in the Court House at East Cambridge, dated June 11, 1739.
Their first child was born at Chelmsford. The others were baptized at Weston but dates and place of birth not identified.

JOHN COREY of Roxbury,
Mass.

I--John Corey-b.

This John Corey appeared in Roxbury, Mass. sometime before 1713. His possible connection with the other Corey families that came to America has not been established.

It does not appear likely that he was a descendent of WILLIAM of Portsmouth, R.I. as there are records there on HIS son, JOHN and we do not see how he could fit in as a GRANDSON.

He might be a descendent of one of the sons of THOMAS of Chelmsford, Mass., and it seems possible it might be of SAMUEL.

The date of his birth is not recorded, but he married Mary Griggs, May 13, 1713, according to Roxbury statistics. She was the daughter of Joseph Griggs and b. 1682, so it is likely that John Corey was born about the same time

Note: The above is from Mr. Goodspeed's notes. Reference to the Thomas Corey outline shows that his son, Samuel was b. 1670 and his last son, Jacob was b. 1688. This would seem to make John Corey of Roxbury (if b. abt. 1682) contemporaneous with them rather than a possible descendent. ????

Table 1. Summary of the results of the regression analysis. The dependent variable is the log of the number of species per site. The independent variables are the log of the area of the site, the log of the number of sites in the region, and the log of the number of sites in the genus. The results are presented for the three regions: North, Central, and South. The coefficients are given in parentheses, and the standard errors are in brackets. The adjusted R-squared values are also shown.

Region	Variable	Coefficient	Standard Error	Adjusted R-squared
North	Area	0.15	0.02	0.12
	Number of sites in region	0.08	0.01	0.08
	Number of sites in genus	0.05	0.01	0.05

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is essential for the proper management of the company's finances and for ensuring compliance with relevant laws and regulations.

2. The second part of the paper describes the various methods used to collect and analyze data. It includes a detailed explanation of the statistical techniques employed, as well as the software tools used for data processing and analysis.

3. The third part of the paper presents the results of the study. It includes a series of tables and graphs that illustrate the findings of the research. These results are then discussed in the context of the overall objectives of the study.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the implications of the findings for the company's management. It provides a series of recommendations based on the results of the study, which are intended to help the company improve its financial performance and to ensure that it remains compliant with all applicable laws and regulations.

5. The fifth part of the paper concludes the study. It summarizes the main findings of the research and provides a final statement on the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions.

6. The sixth part of the paper discusses the limitations of the study. It acknowledges that there are several factors that could have influenced the results of the research, and it provides a series of recommendations for future research to address these limitations.

7. The seventh part of the paper provides a list of references. This list includes all of the sources that were consulted during the course of the research, as well as a list of the authors' previous work.

8. The eighth part of the paper provides a list of appendices. These appendices include all of the supplementary materials that were used in the study, such as the raw data, the statistical analysis, and the final report.

9. The ninth part of the paper provides a list of figures. These figures include all of the graphs and tables that were used to present the results of the study.

10. The tenth part of the paper provides a list of tables. These tables include all of the data that was used in the study, as well as the results of the statistical analysis.
